

Call for Art Submissions

Washington State Minority and Justice Commission

On behalf of the Washington State Minority and Justice Commission, I am pleased to solicit offers to donate limited reproduction rights to original pieces of art by Pacific Northwest artists for consideration and possible selection by the Commission for 2016.

The Commission annually selects an artwork by a Pacific Northwest artist for reproduction as a Commission poster that reflects a dimension of the racial and ethnic diversity of the communities served by Washington State courts. Posters of selected pieces are displayed in numerous courthouses and public offices throughout Washington and featured in the Commission's annual report and other publications.

The most recent example of a piece selected is the oil painting by Seattle, Washington, artist Ashby Reed, titled "Urban Despair," which was selected by the Commission and donated by Mr. Reed for reproduction as the 2015 Commission poster.

Artwork that has been selected by the Commission can be viewed on the Commission's website: <http://www.courts.wa.gov/?fa=home.sub&org=mjc&page=artwork&layout=2&parent=res>.

Submissions, accompanied by contact information for the artist, should be sent to Stacy.Smith@COURTS.WA.GOV by Friday, July 29, 2016. We anticipate reviewing the offers submitted and announcing the final selection around the middle of August.
